

Like to Help Run a Nature Reserve?

Millhoppers Pasture, near Tring

Butterfly Conservation own just one Nature Reserve in Hertfordshire, close to the Wilstone Reservoirs, near Tring.

This beautiful 3.5 acre site consists of a traditional meadow, surrounded by small streams and trees, including rare Black Poplars. As well as many butterflies and moths, the reserve supports badgers and several species of dragonflies.

Millhoppers currently needs a little love and attention. We are looking to recruit one or more volunteers to take a leading role in managing the reserve. The jobs which need doing include grass cutting, regular visits, managing volunteers and publicity.

If you would be interested in getting involved, or like to know more, please contact

Malcolm Hull

Chair

Butterfly Conservation - Herts& Middx Branch

malcolmhull@hertsmiddx-butterflies.org.uk

Tel: 01727 857893 (evenings & weekends)

Saving butterflies, moths and our environment

Butterfly Conservation

To find out more visit:

www.butterfly-conservation.org

facebook.com/savebutterflies

twitter.com/savebutterflies